All right guys.

Now look, we've read this fabulous book "How do you feel", by Anthony Brown, and I think that I want to write about something from it.

I think I want to write about something that makes me feel very, very happy. Now, looking at my picture - what makes me feel happy? Could anyone tell me, Tane?

"When the sun comes out"

Oh and when I'm happy, what do I say when the sun comes out? Can you think Elisa? What do I say?

"Yay"

Yay, I say don't I, all right I say that. All right, now look I think I want to write about that - and there I know I have to be really good: at saying the sentence before I write it; I need to keep that sentence in my head; I need to use my finger spacing; hear the sounds and the words; but also, remember to go back to the beginning and re-read it. Why would I reread it? Does anyone know? What do you reckon?

"Because... so you don't make any mistakes".

Oh so I can fix up any mistakes can't I. I can can't I. Now, let me have a little think guys. I've got my little picture up there. I've got my words - can you read those words with me?

"Sun, Shine, Shout". Oh good, good, good... Now I'm gonna have to put them into.... I can't just say 'Sun, Shines, Shout'.... I'm gonna have to put those into a little sentence that sounds right, that makes sense.

How shall I start it guys? 'I feel happy... when'? What do you reckon? What do you reckon George?

"I feel happy when".

When.... When the what?

"The sun comes out"

Oh when the.... shall I say 'when the sun shines' or 'the sun is out'? Because I quite like 'the sun is out'. What do you reckon Zara?

"The sun is out".

All right, oh okay, now Murray's gonna have to remember that sentence in his head - can you help me guys, can you put your fingers out like this with me...

"I - feel - happy - when - the - sun - is - out".

Oh hey Tane, I heard you saying "when the sun comes out". That sounds better I reckon, could I change it to that?

All right, let's have another go guys.

"I feel happy when the sun comes out".

Oh, how many words is that guys, can you count them?

"Eight"

Oh I've forgotten it, shall we do it again?

"I feel happy when the sun comes out"

Oh, now what was my first word guys?

"I"

I. Where will I write it?

Shall I write it on.... that line, that line, or that...

"Yes"!

Oh so I'll write it up there?

"Yeah"

Oh, okay, all right in that case...

...I need to make sure I leave a little bit of space at the top so that I can make changes if I need to.

“I” - shall I write it there, or there or there?

Who can show me? Come and show me George.

There you are mate can you do it for me? "I".

Oh beautiful! How’re you going to finish it off ?

What goes at the top there?

Oh beautiful, thank you. All right, put your fingers out again guys.

"I", what's the next word?

"Feel".

How am I gonna write feel? I'm wondering if it's...what do you reckon Francesca?

Oh, starts with "fuh, fuh", has anyone got any other ideas? What do you reckon?

I know, oh okay, so you're sounding it out, you're hearing the sounds in the words, what do you reckon Isabel?

"Sounding it out".

Oh I could - but I've got another idea...

I think it's written down somewhere.

"I know it's up there!"

Ooh, show me...

Oh, of course, it's a looking word for me, isn't it? So I can just copy that can't I?

"I" - Oh, I better put my finger space in... "I feel"...

All right, put your fingers out again guys...

"I feel happy". Oh, is happy up there as well?

"Yep" - Is it, show me Isabelle?

Ooh good go, good go.

Now do you know what? I reckon happy starts with "H"...

Can you point to the word there.... is it that one or that one that starts with "H"...?

Good girl, thank you so much.

"I feel" - put my finger space in again "happy"....

... excuse my messy writing. Oh right, now. Can we have another go?

"I feel happy when".

Now is when up there? Oh I don't think it is!

Oh, what do you reckon Mila?

"W"... oh you heard a "whe" at the beginning you heard the “W”.

What did you hear?

"N".... oh "eh, eh" when.... "N" yeah?

"It might be on your word card".

Oh shall we have a look - "Oh yeah I see it"

Oh now that starts like "when" - oh this is a tricky one.

I think I might go for your one George that you told me, "I feel happy when..."

Now, I'm not quite sure, so I might underline it and come back.

All right, okay, what do you reckon Tane?

"It's got a "H" in it”.

Has it? Oh - so where's my other color pen? Oh no there it is over there, thank you so much oops oh caught it -

What do you reckon it goes after the w?

"H" -- ohhhh

Okay, okay, thank you, thank you.

Righty-oh "I feel happy when"...

"The", oh we can do 'the', can't we! Who can do that for me? Come on Zariya, where are you gonna write it? Are you going to write it there, or go down to the next line?

Are you gonna - oh you want to do it on the line that might be better.

Oh, thank you, thank you. All right, we're almost there guys.

"I feel happy when the sun" oh now is sun up there anywhere? Cassie can you show me?

Do you want to write it in for me?

Where are you going to write it? Ohhh, can't squeeze it in there so - ohh you're gonna go to the next line, that's a good good idea.

Oh I like the way she's looking up at it just to check it out.

Beautiful thank you very much and - oh lovely "N".

All right, okay - now we get to the tricky part - let's have another go.

"I feel happy when the sun comes....!"

Ooo starts with "cuh"... I wonder what letter I could use to make "Cuh" - what do you reckon?

um..... I wonder what letter I could use to make "Cuh" ?

"C"

Oh, can you do the "C" for me? Don't forget your finger spacing.

"I know how to write the whole word".

All right, okay - we can check it out soon ...

Oh - are you going to do some more ? All right, have a go!

"I don't know"...

Oh, does it matter if she makes a mistake? No! Shall we do it together?

All right okay, you hold the pen with me and we'll get George to check that we've got it right.

Thank you so much. George, have we got it right?

Have we? [Yah]

What do you reckon Aria, haven't we got it right?

You're not sure? All right - in that case Murray will underline it.

All right let's have a go again guys...

"I feel happy when the sun comes out"

How the heck am I gonna write "out" do you want to have a go? Oh you had to go at the last one didn't you. Mila, would you like to have a go?

Can you do it by yourself?

"Yes - but I'm not sure".

That's all right, have a go - get it down, it's all right.

Oh and she's doing beautiful finger spacing.

Oh, well done. Can you hear a "tuh" in “out”?

Where's the "tuh" go? After, at the end or the beginning "out".

Oh I'm loving how you've had a go - can I underline it?

Oh look - what a great go at - Oh.... hang on - I've forgotten my full stop, Tane come and do it for me please?

Thank you so much - all right.

Righty-oh guys, can we read this over again?

"I feel happy when the sun comes out" oh look, I want to put that I'm..... shall I say 'I feel very happy' or 'I feel really happy'?

What do you reckon - very or really?

"Very" - Ahhh you reckon very, what do you reckon Zariya? "very"

Oh okay, I was gonna put ‘really’, but you guys want me to put ‘very’ so I'll put ‘very’ in - all right, I'll put it in there.

"I feel"... I'll put a little mark there to show me.... "Very" - "vuh, vuh" I don't think I know... oh yes....

Oh what do I put on the end to make "Very"? Sounds like an "E" but I don't think it is. What do you reckon?

"E" - is it an "E" - what do you reckon?

"Y".... oh yes - it's like Mommy and Daddy - words like that isn't it.

It does sound like an "E" - it does.

All right, let's read it again guys.

"I feel very happy when the sun comes out". Ooh do you know what Murray's just realised , "very" was up there - I could have copied it couldn't I? Oh I could have copied it.

Now look we changed - shall I put my teacher's hat on and let you know a few things now?

You know we had a go at 'comes', who did that with me?

We don't have to change that one....

Who did 'out' for me?

[whispering] Oh you had such a good go.....

I love that you've got that "Oww" sound and that's how we wrote it down.... with the "tuh" at the end.

Well done you. Now let's go back to here guys, just to finish this off.

Did Murray say a sentence before he wrote it down? [Yes]

Did Murray keep that sentence in his head when he was writing it, Cassie? [Yes]

Did we use finger spacing? [YES] - oh we did too!

Did we have to hear the sounds in any of the words [YES] - oh, can you tell me a word we heard the sounds of, yep?

"Out" - Oh we did, and ‘when’, oh yeah.... thanks.

Hey guys did we go back to the beginning and re-read it and check that we got it right - Isabel [YES]

We did?

I am so pleased, thank you so much for helping me. Now it's your guys turn to actually write me a sentence about what makes you feel happy.

All right? Okay, thank you.
